

ODBO to XMLA Provider

Connect any OLE DB for OLAP (ODBO) consumer to any XML for Analysis (XMLA) provider/server with Simba Technologies' SimbaO₂X driver.

SimbaO₂X is an ODBO to XMLA client-side driver. It allows today's ODBO applications to work in a web services environment.

Value, Familiarity and Productivity For Accessing Comprehensive Business Intelligence

In the multi-dimensional server space, applications talk ODBO today, while most multi-dimensional servers support web services through XMLA.

SimbaO₂X allows companies to move to a web services environment and continue to use their familiar ODBO-enabled applications. With SimbaO₂X, users can access data from the next generation data sources of major multi-dimensional vendors – like Microsoft, MIS AG and SAP.

SimbaO₂X breathes oxygen into the most popular ODBO business intelligence applications, like Microsoft® Excel, enabling fast, powerful and precise analytics from XMLA data stores.

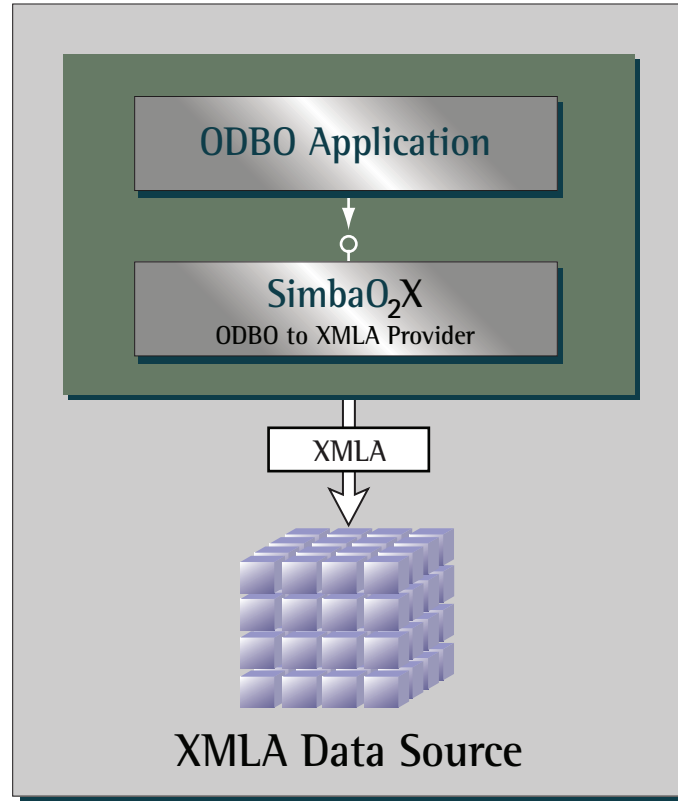

Standards-based Architecture

SimbaO₂X supports all the major multi-dimensional standards – MDX, ODBO and XMLA – and it works in all the latest Windows environments.

SimbaO₂X utilizes the XMLA standard, which is supported by the leading multi-dimensional vendors like Microsoft, MIS AG and SAP.

SimbaO₂X is:

- Easy to set-up
- Easy to configure and use
- Based on standard protocols
- XMLA, MDX and ODBO compliant
